

Subject line: Join me at the BCVS 2021 virtual meeting, August 23-25

Dear Colleagues,

The American Heart Association's annual meeting, Basic Cardiovascular Sciences Scientific Sessions 2021 is happening this August 23-25. This year, they are offering a 3-day virtual experience that will bring you even more opportunities to connect and engage, grow your career, and discover groundbreaking science and research.

By registering for #BCVS21 you will get instant access to 3 days of presentations and engaging events. Including various categories that strive to improve basic cardiovascular regulation through new therapies and insights in cardiovascular disease.

Can't miss sessions at this year's meeting include:

- Keynote Session delivered by Douglas L. Mann, MD
- Annual Outstanding Early Career Investigator Award Competition
- Annual Women in Science Breakfast
- Moderated Poster & ePoster Sessions
- Mix & Mingle sponsored by the BCVS Early Career Committee
